Description

Metal-Technik MTS Sand spreader

The MTS spreader from Metal-Technik is a modern device designed for precise spreading of loose materials, such as sand, salt, gravel or anti-slip mixtures. Thanks to its robust construction and high-quality components, the spreader is perfect for winter maintenance of roads, pavements and parking lots, as well as for agriculture and municipal work.

Key features:

High quality workmanship – durable construction ensuring long life and resistance to harsh working conditions.

Precise adjustment – the width and intensity of gritting can be adjusted as required.

Universally applicable – ideal for use in both the municipal and agricultural sectors.

Easy to install – compatible with a variety of vehicles, including tractors and loaders.

Efficient work – even distribution of the crop thanks to the modern spreading system.

Metal-Technik is a renowned manufacturer of agricultural and municipal machinery, which focuses on innovative solutions and reliability.

The MTS spreader is an excellent choice for companies and institutions that care about the safety of the surface in winter.
